MEDICINAL.

Children

Have "eyes bigger than their stomachs," according to an old saying. They overeat themselves, and are tempted by all sorts of injurious and indigestible edibles. As a consequence the foundation of serious stomach trouble is often laid in childhood.

For children with "weak" digestion or whose stomachs are diseased, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may be confidently recommended. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the nourishment contained in food is perfectly assimilated and the young child is built up by food into a condition of robust health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mrs. E. B. Gardner, of Waterville, Middlesex Co., Va., writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health. I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. Whenever she feels badly I give her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she is soon all right. She took twelve bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and is now as healthy as a horse. I am sure that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine for children I have ever used."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. W. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

STATE POLITICS.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

We, too, are concerned in the new crusade which is now on foot and which is destined to achieve miracles or prove a failure. This is nothing new, it is only a history repeating itself.

We gainy others and are blind to the fifth before us. We read the epitaphs of great men who have been wronged and ruined by their friends and yet pursue the same cause which brought about the retributive sequence of the most lamentable character. We have low idiosyncrasies and run mad over absurdities. Our people speak with pride of our talented Montague and in the same breath say a shallow minded man wants to occupy the second place on the State ticket and should have it. Is it any wonder that thinking men should turn away from such revolting incongruities with disgust and contempt? They know their play is a mere sham and will not bear the scrutiny of inspection, but they do not wish to be disturbed in the charm of their infatuation. We have the request of our people to our guidance in the campaign opening up before us. A talented man must be a governor, "a weak man," they say, "must be lieutenant governor, because he wants it." This is a curious argument to convince intelligent people. And they will not leave Mr. Martin alone. Justices will claim their own. He has fairly beaten two of the greatest men in the State for the high position he now holds and will hold with honor and credit alike to the State and himself. There must have been a man, a gentleman, an invincible prowess behind it. Some of these articles are uncharitable. Their accusations lack evidence. At any rate we have this demur and pass it over with the final sequel, that where or when he was converted to silver or any other great issue of the people, the heroic deed he took, made it a test of loyalty to the faith which attested the principle which stood out as the champion to which which brooked danger and defied the consequences of the espousal of the truth. No man can help but agree with me that it is a good thing to keep on top, and I wish I had the Senator's art of doing it. We agree that it is desirable to maintain ourselves in harmony with public sentiment and we all wish we knew how to attune our views to the varying currents of popular opinion with that ready skill and easy consistency which so highly distinguishes the Senator. Many of his antagonists are harsh, rash and impulsive, whereas Senator Martin possesses in the highest degree the power of self-restraint. He wisely reserves himself for great occasions, and it happens with a regularity which shows how favorably the fates watch over his personal fortunes, that these occasions are always coincidental. One man worries because he can control but one vote in a district primary, and gets mad and squeals because another man has a whole State behind him.

Two boys are running to jump on the rear of a traveling wagon. One with elastic leap mounts, the other blunders and falls. Before he takes the time to brush the dust from his clothes he yells to the driver "Cut behind."

This is the exact size of it. Whether Mr. Swanson or Mr. Montague is the next Governor of Virginia his past history will not be clouded. But for the second place on the ticket? A knowing man told me the other day that the honor was empty. I expect it would be to some of the aspirants, for it is doubtful whether or not they have the knowledge to properly appreciate it. I cannot understand how any man can call an honor "empty," to walk on the same plank which once echoed to the foot tread of Henry, Madison, Monroe, the Marshalls, Mecons and a thousand others whose names can be traced to the constitution. Empty! to preside over the Virginia Senate? The writer has never attended a State convention since Holiday best Mahone, consequently is acquainted with few of our best men—other than local. We have plenty of time and an abundance of good material to pick from. "When an ex is tired it trends more surely to the uncertain pathway." Our pathway is uncertain and we are tired of the talk for "available men." We are democrats. We want the State of Virginia to always elect a democratic State ticket, and its electoral vote cast its lot on the side of the struggling people of the country, the democratic side!

To do this we must pick men of honor and brains. Very respectfully,

B. F. N.

Ashburn, Va., January 21, 1901.
